Chancellor's welcome

Today is a time for celebration as you mark both the end and the beginning of exciting parts of your lives. It is also an occasion on which to look forward to the opportunities available to you as a graduate of the University of South Australia.

I am honoured to be able to share this special event with you, and your family and friends.

During your time with the University of South Australia you have developed a set of distinctive qualities which describe the knowledge, skills and personal abilities that you will need as you move into a constantly changing global economy.

You have acquired an international outlook; a capacity for critical thought and lifelong learning; an ability to communicate effectively and work autonomously and cooperatively; and a sense of social responsibility. You are well equipped to succeed, confident in the knowledge and skills you possess.

Congratulations and all the very best as you start the next big adventure in your lives.

Mr Jim McDowell

Chancellor

Mr Jim McDowell

LLB (Honours)

Mr Jim McDowell is Chancellor of the University of South Australia.

Born in Belfast, Northern Ireland, he completed a law degree with honours at the University of Warwick (England) in 1977. He worked in legal, commercial and marketing roles with aerospace company Bombardier Shorts for the next 18 years.

Mr McDowell joined British Aerospace in Singapore in August 1996. In 1999, he was appointed Regional Managing Director of BAE Systems for Asia, following the merger of British Aerospace and Marconi Electronic Systems and based in Hong Kong. Upon taking over at BAE Systems Australia, he established the company's headquarters in Adelaide, South Australia where he lives.

He was Chief Executive Officer of BAE Systems Saudi Arabia, a $6 billion company, from September 2011 to December 2013.

Mr McDowell is a passionate supporter of continuing education.

He has in-depth experience in corporate governance having served, mainly as Chair, on a range of boards including the Australian Nuclear Science and Technology Organisation, the Defence Cooperative Research Centre (CRC) in Trusted Autonomous Systems, Tonal Construction Pty Ltd and X-ray equipment supplier, Micro-X Ltd. He is a non-executive director of both Codan Ltd and Austal Ltd and a board member of the Australian Strategic Policy Institute Council, the Royal Automobile Association (RAA), the Adelaide Football Club and St Peter's College Council of Governors.

During his long career, Mr McDowell has lived and worked in the UK, the USA, Korea, Singapore, Hong Kong and the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia.

Vice Chancellor's welcome

Graduating with a university degree represents a major milestone in life. Now you're about to enter a whole new world of wonderful opportunities. You will leave us today with a parchment and a career path and we couldn't be prouder of you.

I am very pleased to share the excitement of this day with you and with the people who have supported you throughout your studies: your family, your friends and your mentors.

Yours is an important graduation ceremony and we are celebrating your success along with our own. We have come a long way since 1991 when we amalgamated colleges of advanced education and institutes of technology to become the University of South Australia. Now we're considered one of the world's best young universities – Australia's University of Enterprise – putting our best teaching and research into creating bright futures for our students and partnering with industry and the professions to bring the benefits of that teaching and research to our community.

I hope the achievement you celebrate today opens many doors of opportunities for you so that you can make your mark as a global citizen, a professional in everything you do.

You, like more than 200,000 graduates who have preceded you, are very important to us; you are our success stories, the role models for current students and those who might follow in your footsteps. As your career grows and your success is assured, current students look at you and see what's possible in their own lives.

I wish you every success, happiness and prosperity as you take your first steps into your new lives as graduates of the University of South Australia.

Professor David Lloyd

Vice Chancellor and President

Professor David Lloyd

BSc(Hons), PhD, CChem, FRSC

David Lloyd was appointed to the University of South Australia as Vice Chancellor and President in 2012. A Dublin-born and educated chemist who specialises in computer-aided drug design, Professor Lloyd has re-focused institutional culture to position UniSA as Australia's University of Enterprise and to shape its activities to better meet the challenges of the 21st century.

In 2014 Professor Lloyd was appointed to the South Australia Economic Development Board (EDB). A past Chair of the Australian Technology Network group of technology-focused universities, he now sits on the board of Universities Australia, the peak body representing the university sector where he is the lead vice-chancellor for research and innovation.

Before joining the University of South Australia, Professor Lloyd was Vice-President for Research and later Bursar and Director of Strategic Innovation at Trinity College Dublin. Professor Lloyd was Chair of the Irish Research Council and prior to academia, worked in the pharmaceutical industry in the UK. He holds an honorary Professorship from Tianjin University and is a Fellow of the Royal Society of Chemistry.

About the University of South Australia

The University of South Australia (UniSA) is Australia's University of Enterprise. Our culture of innovation is anchored around global and national links to academic, research and industry partners. Our graduates are global professionals at ease with the world and ready to create and respond to change. Our research is inventive and adventurous and it creates new knowledge that is central to global economic and social prosperity.

Our reputation continues to grow. We are considered one of the world's best young universities by both Times Higher Education (THE) and Quacarelli Symonds (QS). We are the youngest Australian university to make THE's World's Top 250 list (number 9 in Australia); we are also the highest ranked university in Australia for the international diversity of our staff and are ranked 9th in the world on that measure.

With around 32,000 students, almost 6,000 of whom are international students, UniSA is South Australia's largest university and offers degree programs in business, education, arts, social sciences, health sciences, information technology, engineering and the environment. Programs are designed with strong professional emphasis and in partnership with industry and the professions to ensure the career relevance of its teaching. The Good Universities Guide 2018 rates UniSA as Number One in South Australia for getting a full-time job.

UniSA is committed to providing enhanced educational offerings and an outstanding student experience. Our focus over coming years will be to extend the support we provide to our students, through drawing on emerging digital technologies to provide more personalised and flexible learning opportunities for our students, locally and globally. We are committed to providing education opportunities for students from diverse backgrounds and helping them to be the best they can be.

The University's strong research environment focuses on areas such as scarce resources, future industries and cancer prevention and management. The close, collaborative engagement we enjoy with our many industry, government, collegiate and community partners ranks UniSA as one of Australia's leading universities for strategic research partnerships, and in the Excellence in Research for Australia 2015 evaluation more than 97 per cent of our assessed research was deemed to be of world-class standard or above.

The University is also closely engaged with the communities we serve. Our Samstag Museum presents a changing exhibitions program of contemporary visual art, and our Hawke Centre engages with local and international communities through public learning activities including lectures, seminars, alliances and research projects. The University also has a strong equity mission and was the first university in South Australia to have a Reconciliation Action Plan.

We are also committed supporters of the Australian Indigenous Mentoring Experience (AIME) and aim to be the University of Choice for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people.

With six campuses spread from the heart of Adelaide to the metropolitan area (Mawson Lakes and Magill) and the regional cities of Whyalla and Mount Gambier, the University provides opportunities to students from a wide range of geographic, socio-economic and cultural backgrounds. We are currently implementing a $1 billion-plus building program to further create engaging learning and research spaces.

Our journey so far

The University of South Australia (UniSA) was established in 1991 but our foundations date back to the latter half of the 19th century. The forerunners of today's UniSA were the South Australian School of Art, founded in 1856, the first of several Teacher Training Colleges formed in 1876, and the School of Mines and Industries which was established in 1889. These schools were renowned for providing quality education and for responding to the needs of the nascent colony of South Australia.

1856

The School of Art was established by Charles Hill just 15 years after the proclamation of the new colony of South Australia.

1876

The Training School, the first South Australian Teachers College, was founded.

1889

The South Australian School of Mines and Industries was established.

1906

Louis Laybourne Smith established the first architectural course at the South Australian School of Mines and Industries.

1907

Adelaide Kindergarten Training College for teachers was established with strong advocacy from Lillian de Lissa.

1918

The Adelaide Technical High School was founded as a preparatory school for the courses offered by the School of Mines and Industries.

1960

The Adelaide Technical High School and the South Australian School of Mines and Industries merged to form the South Australian Institute of Technology (SAIT).

1965

The SAIT opened Whyalla campus to meet the growing demand for skills in the steel and shipping industries.

1973

The Aboriginal Task Force was established at the South Australian Institute of Technology and provided some of the first education in social work specifically for Indigenous students in Australia. It was the first tertiary program of its kind in Australia and provided an enclave of support for its students and a path forward that encouraged careers built on education.

1982

The South Australian College of Advanced Education (SACAE) was formed out of the amalgamation of the Adelaide College of the Arts and Education (including the Underdale and City campuses) along with the Hartley (Magill), Salisbury and Sturt Colleges of Advanced Education.

1991

The South Australian College of Advanced Education (SACAE) designated as one of only eight Distance Education Centres.

The University of South Australia (UniSA) was established upon the merger of SAIT and three SACAE campuses.

John McDonald appointed first Chancellor; Professor Alan Mead the first Vice Chancellor.

UniSA became a foundation member of the Australian Technology Network (ATN) federation.

UniSA commenced teaching programs offshore, beginning with the International MBA in Singapore.

Professor Eleanor Ramsay, the first-ever Australian Pro Vice Chancellor charged with improving equity and access to education, was appointed.

The Distance Education Centre building at Underdale was opened.

The City West campus was officially opened by Governor General Sir William Dean.

UniSA identified seven unique graduate qualities that described the knowledge, skills and personal abilities required in professional careers.

UniSA became the first Australian university to develop a Statement of Commitment to Australian Reconciliation.

The Bob Hawke Prime Ministerial Centre was established.

Professor Denise Bradley was named the University's Vice Chancellor and President.

Extensively involved in national education policy groups for more than two decades, she chaired the Expert Panel in 2008 that undertook the National Review of Higher Education.

Now Emeritus Professor Denise Bradley AC, she was made a Companion of the Order of Australia, Australia's highest honour, in recognition of her service to higher education.

Professor David Robinson appointed Vice Chancellor.

The Hon Dr Basil Hetzel AC appointed Chancellor of the University of South Australia.

1994

Two of the University's key research institutes, the Ian Wark Research Institute (IWRI) and the Institute for Telecommunications Research (ITR), were officially opened.

1996

The Unaipon School was opened offering a range of programs in Aboriginal and Australian Studies.

1998

UniSA awarded an honorary doctorate to then President of South Africa, Nelson Mandela.

1999

David Klingberg AM succeeded Dr Basil Hetzel AC as Chancellor.

UniSA won the Business SA Export Award for education for the first time.

2000

Nelson Mandela was announced as the new International Patron of UniSA's Bob Hawke Prime Ministerial Centre.

2002

UniSA was named the leading provider of offshore programs in Australia by IDP.

FedSat, Australia's experimental satellite developed by the CRC for Satellite Systems and including UniSA-designed payloads, was launched.

The UniSA Northern Adelaide Partnerships (UNAP) program was established to underpin economic and social development and improve education participation in severely disadvantaged communities.

The University of South Australia Business School became only the second in Australia to receive European Quality Improvement System (EQUIS) accreditation, one of two major forms of international accreditation for business schools.

The University received an overwhelmingly positive report from the Australian Universities Quality Agency (AUQA) audit, including 16 commendations for good practice.

UniSA received $10 million in funding from the Australian Government to establish a Chair in Child Protection at the University.

UniSA delivered the Australian International Space University intensive professional development program, confirming South Australia's position as a centre for space education and training.

UniSA won the Institutional Award from the Australian Learning and Teaching Council for Provision of Services to the Community.

The University celebrated its 10th anniversary.

UniSA sponsored the Tour Down Under cycling race for the first time.

2003

UniSA was named an Employer of Choice for Women for the first time.

2005

The first stage of the University's $100 million capital development program, Blueprint 2005, was completed and five new buildings—the Kaurna Building, the Dorrit Black Building, the Garth Boomer Building, the Basil Hetzel Building and the Mawson Centre—were opened.

The University launched four new research institutes – the Ehrenberg Bass Institute for Marketing Science, the Sansom Institute for Health Research, the Hawke Research Institute for Sustainable Society, and the Institute for Sustainable Systems and Technologies (since renamed the Barbara Hardy Institute).

The UniSA Mount Gambier Regional Centre was opened and the Centre for Regional Engagement established.

UniSA was ranked in the top 200 universities worldwide by The Times Higher Education Supplement.

Professor John Ralston was named UniSA's first Laureate Professor.

The Australian Minerals Science Research Institute (AMSRI), headquartered at UniSA's Ian Wark Research Institute, was officially opened. It was supported by the largest ARC Linkage Grant ever awarded.

The Royal Australian Institute of Architects awarded the nation's highest accolade for a public building to UniSA's Kaurna Building.

UniSA was awarded $40 million through the Federal Government's Education Investment Fund to help build the $73 million building to house the Materials and Minerals Science Learning and Research Hub at Mawson Lakes.

Dr Ian Gould AM, a resources industry professional, was appointed as the University's new Chancellor following the retirement of David Klingberg AM.

Professor Peter Høj joined UniSA as Vice Chancellor and President of the University following Professor Denise Bradley's retirement.

2009

Associate Professor Mahfuz Aziz won the Prime Minister's Award for the Australian Teacher of the Year.

UniSA joined Pedal Prix, the Human Powered Vehicle super series, as lead sponsor.

The UniSA College was launched to offer more opportunities for South Australians to gain access to tertiary education.

UniSA joined forces with the International Space University in Strasbourg, France, to bring world-class space education to the southern hemisphere.

UniSA secured $30 million from the Federal Government's Education Investment Fund towards the cost of a $85 million learning centre to be built in Adelaide's West End.

In the 2011 QS World University Rankings, the University of South Australia showed the biggest improvement of any Australian university for the second year running to be ranked 11th in Australia. It remains in the top three per cent of more than 10,000 universities worldwide.

The first national Excellence in Research for Australia (ERA) assessment showed that around 70 per cent of UniSA research assessed was world-class standard or above.

The UniSA-based Centre for Muslim and Non-Muslim Understanding was launched in India by then Minister of Education and future Prime Minister, Julia Gillard.

UniSA graduated its 100,000th student, Charlotte Mukamuberwa, a Rwandan refugee now with a Bachelor of Commerce degree.

The second Excellence in Research Australia (ERA) assessment rated more than 86 per cent of UniSA's research as world-class or better.

Chemist, researcher and Irish university leader, Professor David Lloyd, is appointed as the University of South Australia's new Vice Chancellor and President.

The new China-Australia Centre for Sustainable Urban Design, is founded in partnership with Tianjin University.

In April the University's $85 million Jeffrey Smart Building was officially opened, featuring eight floors spanning 12,480m² with the latest technologies and cutting edge learning spaces.

To mark the 20-year partnership between UniSA and Hong Kong Baptist University, a new suite of jointly offered full-time degrees is launched.

UniSA partners with the Institute for Choice to bring global experts together in the science of human choice behaviour; and is announced as the national headquarters for an $88 million Data to Decisions CRC.

UniSA became the first university in the world to host an online brainstorming event and ideas generator – unijam. It hosted 17,000 unique posts and more than 1300 conversation threads from across 56 countries.

Crossing the Horizon was launched – a strategic action plan designed to change the way the University operates and engages with its communities.

UniSA ranked in the world's top 50 under 50 years of age by both the QS and THE world university rankings. The University also ranked in the THE's global Top 100 for engineering and technology.

UniSA's MBA program is one of only three nationally to win a five-star rating for the sixth consecutive year from the Graduate Management Association's Good Universities Guide.

An alliance with SA Pathology is announced that will see UniSA support the growth of one of Australia's top cancer research centres. With a Federal Government investment of $40 million, the Centre for Cancer Biology (CCB) expansion was announced by the then Prime Minister Julia Gillard during a visit to UniSA in June.

The University was appointed lead partner of a new Cooperative Research Centre for Cell Therapy Manufacturing set to underpin significant innovations in the treatment available for diabetes, wound, and transplant patients.

UniSA was ranked as one of the world's best young universities (THE ranks us #38 on their list of the world's best 50 under 50; Quacarelli Symonds moves us up to #25). We had some stunning research results as well: Excellence in Research Australia rated 97 per cent of our assessed research as world-class or above.

UniSA was also ranked as one of the world's best international universities. We entered into a significant relationship with the University College London to establish our Future Industries Institute (FII) and became the recipient of an incredibly generous contribution from the late, great, Sir Terry Pratchett, a perpetual scholarship fund worth more than $1 million.

UniSA also opened the Innovation Collaboration Centre at City West in partnership with Hewlett Packard Enterprise and forged a partnership with one of China's largest drug manufacturers, Yabao Pharmaceuticals, to develop and bring to market new cancer treatments.

UniSA's rapid rise up the international rankings continued with Times Higher Education (THE) rating the university as #32 in their list of the world's best young universities. UniSA was the youngest Australian university on the list and ranked by THE as #9 in Australia, of universities of any age. UniSA's Law School, in only its 10th year, was ranked as one of the world's best at #88 and the best in South Australia. Quality Indicators for Learning and Teaching (QILT) rated UniSA as #1 in South Australia for graduate careers and for student satisfaction.

In 2017 UniSA developed a new suite of high-quality, 100 per cent online undergraduate courses that can be studied anytime, anywhere. Each of UniSA Online's new bachelor degree programs is designed specifically for online education giving students the best possible learning resources to encourage deeper and broader intellectual engagement and to support personalised learning and assessment strategies.

Jim McDowell, former BAE systems Saudi Arabia CEO and a passionate supporter of continuing education, succeeded Dr Ian Gould AM as the University's Chancellor.

The University celebrated its 25th birthday since establishment in 1991.

UniSA joined forces with SA's largest private health care provider, Calvary Health Care Adelaide, to expand health education and research.

Future Industries Institute (FII) was officially launched and received $7.5 million from the South Australian Government.

Professor Irene Watson was appointed as the first Pro Vice Chancellor: Aboriginal Leadership and Strategy, and Unaipon Chair.

Esteemed investment banker, Chairman of the Sydney Swans Board and UniSA Alumnus, Andrew Pridham, presented a $5 million philanthropic gift to support construction of the new great hall. Acknowledging this as the largest single private donation in the University's 25 year history, the multipurpose facility was named as Pridham Hall.

The University climbed the ranks in the QS World's Top 50 Under 50 – now positioned as the 24th best young university in the world.

Mortarboard tassels for Indigenous Australian graduates

The University of South Australia is proud of its commitment to Australian reconciliation. To enable Indigenous Australians to have their ancestry recognised, Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander graduates have the option of wearing a mortarboard with a tassel incorporating the colours of the respective flags (red, black and yellow for Aboriginal graduates and blue, green and white for Torres Strait Islander graduates).

History of academic dress

Academic dress has a long history, almost as long as that of universities themselves. It began with the foundation of the European universities in the 12th and 13th centuries. Until that time, education was carried out within the monasteries, such as one at Oxford where divinity, philosophy and arts were studied as early as the 8th century.

It was not until the 12th century that groups of teachers and students gathered together for classes outside monastery walls in a move that was recognisable as the beginnings of universities. Two of the outstanding schools at that time were in Bologna and Paris. During the 13th century the Roman legal word universitas became a common name for study groups. The third great university of the Middle Ages, Oxford, emerged at that time. Much of the symbolism of academic dress is bound up with the history of those early universities which have influenced the creation and maintenance of a distinctive form of dress.

In the earliest times, university statutes concerning academic costume were somewhat vague, and it was not until the late 14th and early 15th centuries, as lay fashions began to change, that universities began to adopt the policy of setting down particular requirements for the shape and cut of academic dress.

Over the centuries, gowns have evolved in various forms from the original outer garment or robe commonly worn by the laity and members of the clergy, to the many modern versions for the various levels of academic awards. Hoods have developed from the head coverings worn by students in the early ages. They were especially useful in inclement weather and in the draughty cloisters of monasteries.

At Canterbury, in the 13th century, the monks' hoods were lined with fur because of the cold. Windows in those days were not glazed.

It would seem that no matter how young a university is, one of the first priorities is to adopt a style of academic dress which is distinctive.

The University of South Australia is no exception. In 1991, the University acknowledged the academic dress of its predecessor institutions and then in February 1992, the University's academic dress was determined by the Council and the first graduation ceremonies wearing the new University of South Australia academic dress occurred during April 1992. It is interesting to note that the hood chosen is of Oxford Burgon style while the gown is of the Cambridge style, an interesting link with two of the greatest European universities of the Middle Ages.

Ceremony Tradition

Academic Procession and stage party

The traditional custom in which dignitaries of the university enter the graduation hall is known as the academic procession. The University of South Australia's academic procession is led by higher degree graduates and members of the University Council, followed by academic staff and senior management of the University, including the Vice Chancellor. The Chancellor is the last to enter.

Academics sit at the rear of the stage and Council members in the second to front row. The front row is reserved for staff reading graduand names, the academic registrar, senior managers, the Vice Chancellor, guest speaker, honorary award recipients, special guests, and the Chancellor.

In some circumstances the Chancellor may be represented by the Deputy Chancellor or Pro Chancellor.

Academic Dress

Academic dress usually reflects the highest academic qualification of the wearer. Special ceremonial gowns are also worn and these represent the wearer's position and title. The Vice Chancellor can be recognised by the distinctive blue gown adorned with silver oakleaf lace, and black bonnet with blue tassel. The Chancellor's gown is also blue but incorporates gold oakleaf lace and notably this is worn with a black bonnet finished with a gold tassel. If you look carefully you will see that this gown also has a combination of gold stripes on each sleeve instead of the silver stripes located on the Vice Chancellor's gown.

Senior management wear a black gown with blue facing on the front and rear collar, and a black bonnet with silver tassel. The academic registrar wears a similar gown. However you will note that the blue facing is not as wide and the collar is black, and a black mortar board with blue tassel is worn. Readers wear the gown reflecting their highest award, as do Professors receiving the honorary title of Emeritus Professor, and those being awarded with the honorary title of University Fellow. Recipients of honorary Doctor of the University awards wear the prestigious blue University of South Australia honorary doctorate gown trimmed with yellow and red facing, and a red, yellow, and blue hood. A black bonnet with black tassel is the accompanying headwear.

Council members are distinguished with black silk-like gowns with red, blue, and yellow facing, and a black bonnet and gold tassel. Candidates graduating with a PhD wear a black Oxford-style gown with red facing, and those receiving professional doctorates wear the same style gown but with coloured facing representing their discipline.

End of Ceremony

The academic recession signals the end of the ceremony and is led by the Vice Chancellor, followed by the stage party in the reverse order to which it entered and the graduates.

University of South Australia Awards

Degree types

University of South Australia students have a range of program options when undertaking their study. The following are examples of the degree titles you may hear during the graduation ceremony.

Doctor of Philosophy

Doctor of Philosophy programs provide training and education with the objective of producing graduates with the capacity to conduct research independently at a high level of originality and quality.

Professional Doctorate

A Professional Doctorate is a rigorous program of advanced study and research, designed specifically to meet the needs of industry and professional groups. Professional Doctorates usually consist of a blend of coursework and research.

Honours degree

The Honours degree is a separate, stand-alone one-year program of advanced studies for students who demonstrate a high level of achievement upon completion of their pass degree program.

Degree with Honours

A degree with Honours is a program of four or more years in duration, which includes a minimum of one year of advanced studies, for students who demonstrate a high level of achievement in the initial years of their program.

Double degree

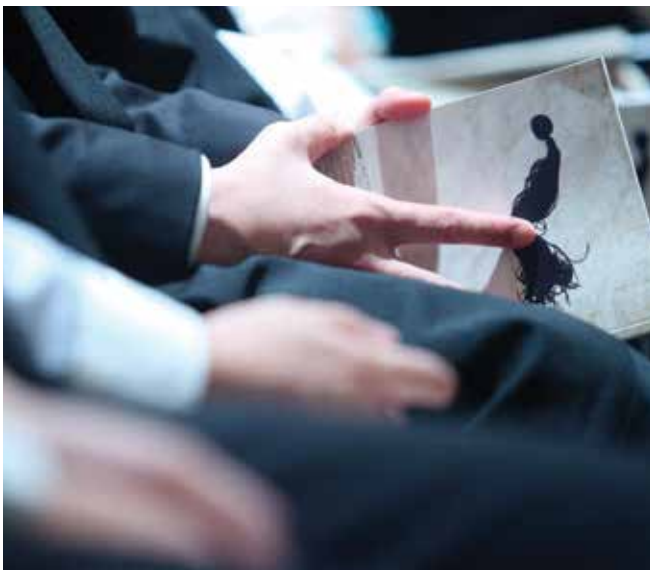

A double degree is a program where two contrasting and complementary programs at the same level have been combined to complement each other, such that the core elements of the two awards are undertaken simultaneously and the requirements of each award are fully met. These graduates receive two parchments.

Co-badged degrees

A collaborative arrangement between recognised providers, resulting in a single award and may include the co-badging of a single parchment.

Dual degrees

Collaborative partnerships between the University of South Australia and another recognised provider enable students to undertake a degree jointly facilitated by both institutions. Graduates of these programs will be issued with parchments from each institution.

Pridham Hall

Pridham Hall is named to acknowledge the extraordinary benefaction and leadership of Mr Andrew Pridham. Mr Andrew Pridham is a proud alumnus of the UniSA Property Resource Management degree (1988).

His transformative gift to the University acknowledges his gratitude to UniSA for his 'outstanding education' as well as reflecting his belief in the positive role education can play in one's life.

Mr Pridham also believes that those that have the capacity to contribute to the broader community should do so generously and encourage others to do the same.

"The University of South Australia is an important institution very worthy of support. Universities develop minds and foster new thinking. It is a privilege for The Pridham Foundation to support UniSA and contribute to this impressive building and be a part of the process of developing future generations.

The first Pridhams arrived in South Australia in 1849, just 13 years after the proclamation of Government in SA. This is an investment of 169 years by my family and its preceding generations. South Australia is important to our family and in particular my direct family, being my parents LR (Bob) and Marie Pridham and my siblings Helen, David, Mary and Richard.

I hope for the great success of all students who pass through the doors of this great hall in the process of their studies at UniSA."

You can leave your mark on UniSA

Embed yourself in the DNA of the Pridham Hall

By building Pridham Hall we have created a new heart of the University - an iconic venue where thousands of memories will be made.

The state-of-the-art facility features a sports complex, a swimming pool, and facilities for graduations and corporate and cultural events. It is a significant part of the student experience and offers important sport and fitness services to the entire local community, including the new Health Precinct opening on North Terrace.

Under the guidance of the design teams we have selected three spaces and sculptural forms where we can permanently etch your name and your three words to live by in Pridham Hall to forever inform and inspire future generations of students.

Hundreds of graduates, staff and supporters have already donated $1,000 to embed their name and words, or those of a loved one, into the chandelier, inverted pyramid and the swimming pool.

To find out more about how you too can participate in this unique initiative please visit www.unisa.edu.au/pridhamhall

Support UniSA's Scholarship Fund

UniSA's Scholarship Fund provides scholarships, grants and prizes that recognise academic achievement and give vital financial support to students who need it most.

UniSA has more students from a disadvantaged background than any other university in South Australia, and there are many students at UniSA for whom money is a real issue. Many have multiple jobs to support themselves, some come from remote rural areas, and more than 25 per cent have little financial support at home – which puts them at risk of not completing their degrees and foregoing their dream.

The Fund supports students tackling the problems of the world as they progress through masters and PhD studies, as well as students just starting out in their undergraduate studies who are finding their purpose and inspiration.

By making a donation to the Scholarship Fund you can help future students. It is a wonderful way of giving back and acknowledging what you have accomplished. To give someone else a boost please visit www.unisa.edu.au/scholarshipfund

Alumni

Alumni Network

The University of South Australia supports a thriving worldwide community of its graduates through its alumni network. Upon receiving their degrees, our graduates automatically become members of an alumni network that includes over 202,000 of their colleagues and extends across more than 134 countries.

Keeping up to date

University of South Australia alumni are able to keep up to date with the achievements of fellow graduates and the University by receiving regular electronic copies of UniSA News, Alumni News and Enterprise magazine. Alumni continue to have access to their University email account for life.

You have the privilege of connecting with Alumni living around the world using social media and our online mentoring community, UniSA Global Alumni Connect.

Continuing to learn

University of South Australia alumni exclusively receive special library membership for free, providing ongoing access to the University's vast learning resources. They receive invitations to special public lectures and the University's International Seminar Series that feature leading academics and thinkers.

Advancing careers

The alumni network maintains a dedicated business directory that outlines discounted services available for fellow alumni, and the University's career services program also provides continuing advice on career development and forums to facilitate contact with employers and professional bodies.

Staying in touch

Reunion events are held in Australia and other countries each year. There are formal network chapters in Malaysia, Hong Kong, Singapore, China and the United Kingdom, as well as active groups in many other locations in Australia and overseas that hold regular events. The UniSA Business School also maintains an active community and program of events.

More information on the alumni network and access to its wide range of services and resources is available at www.unisa.edu.au/alumni

The Occasional Address

Professor Duncan Campbell

PhD FIEAust FRAeS

Professor Duncan Campbell is UniSA's Head of the School of Engineering. Prior to joining UniSA, he was a Professor in Robotics and Autonomous Systems at the Queensland University of Technology (QUT), and Director of the Australian Research Centre for Aerospace Automation (ARCAA) at QUT. Professor Campbell has 30 years of research leadership in control and automation with many industry collaborations. More recently, he was the leader for Project ResQu, a two year, $7M collaborative research partnership between QUT, CSIRO, Boeing Research & Technology Australia, Insitu Pacific Ltd and the Queensland State Government. Project ResQu fast-tracked research focusing on the enabling technologies and the regulatory environment toward the routine operation of unmanned aircraft.

Order of Ceremony

Processional music will be played.

The audience is requested to stand for the entrance of the Official Party.

The National Anthems.

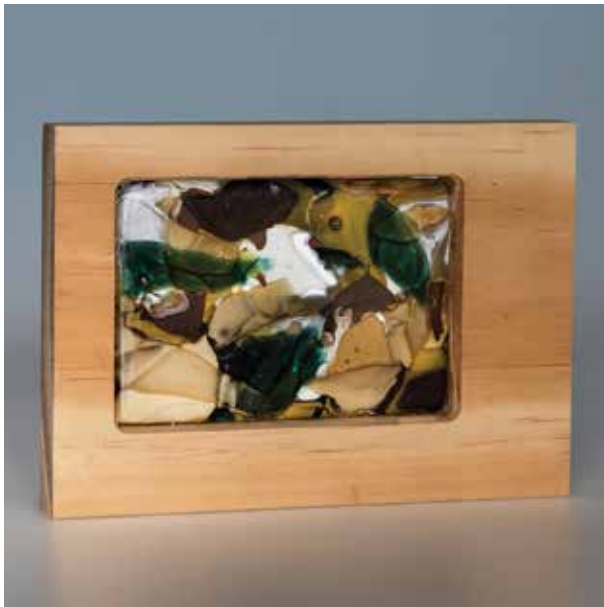

The Vice Chancellor and President, Professor David Lloyd BSc(Hons), PhD, CChem, FRSC, will open and address the ceremony.

The Occasional Address will be delivered by Professor Duncan Campbell, Head of the School of Engineering at the University of South Australia.

The Vice Chancellor, on behalf of the University, will present the awards.

The Vice Chancellor will close the ceremony.
