- 1.3 acknowledges that information regarding a staff member's disability or health status is personal and private and will respect the confidentiality of all such information in accordance with the University's Privacy Policy.

B. Workplace Adjustments

2. Workplace adjustments are sometimes referred to as 'reasonable adjustments' and include supporting activities, assistance, or adjustments that remove or reduce barriers to enable staff members with disability to perform the inherent requirements of their position.
3. Workplace adjustments enable prospective and existing staff members to:
 - 3.1 access equal opportunity in all areas of employment including application, selection, appointment, promotion, transfer, training and other opportunities.
 - 3.2 effectively perform the inherent requirements of the position in which they are employed.
 - 3.3 access equitable terms and conditions of employment.
 - 3.4 participate in and benefit from work related facilities, programs, and events.
4. Workplace adjustments will be tailored in accordance with the requirements and circumstances of individual staff members to enable them to deliver the inherent requirements of their future or current position with the University.
5. Workplace adjustments may be temporary or permanent and are to be reviewed regularly to ensure they remain relevant and effective.
6. Workplace adjustments must be reviewed if the inherent requirements of a position change.

C. Types of Workplace Adjustments

7. Workplace adjustments can include, but are not limited to:
 - 7.1 Physical adjustments: modifying the workplace or workstation, and/or providing specific equipment/tools.
 - 7.2 Work arrangements: adjustments to work hours or duties such as part-time work, starting and finishing later, work location, assistance in managing workload, flexibility to attend appointments. See Flexible Working Arrangements Procedure.
 - 7.3 Position adjustments: modifying duties, adjusting work methods, providing additional training.
 - 7.4 Technological assistance: providing new, or modifying existing, equipment and tools, for example, speech-recognition software, screen reading software, amplified phone, or captioning.

 - 7.6 Assessment: relevant adjustments to assessment and selection in recruitment processes, professional development, and training.

D. Requesting a Workplace Adjustment

Pre-employment

8. During the recruitment process, applicants are encouraged to self-identify that they have a disability that requires a workplace adjustment.
9. A UniSA Recruitment Central representative will contact the applicant to discuss the request for a workplace adjustment.
10. Requests for a workplace adjustment will not impact the selection panel's decision, although the panel will assess the candidate's ability to perform the inherent requirements of the position.
11. If an applicant who requires a workplace adjustment is successfully appointed to a position, completion of a Workplace Adjustment Request will be required.

During employment

12. Workplace adjustments can be requested at any time during the staff member's employment.
13. A request for a workplace adjustment can be made through the staff member's supervisor. Alternatively, the staff member may discuss their request for a workplace adjustment with a member of the Strategic People Partnering Team.
14. Supervisors may seek advice from a member of the Strategic People Partnering Team to action workplace adjustment requests.
15. A Workplace Adjustment Request is completed to record relevant information and to provide a summary of what has been requested and agreed.
16. Information to be included in a request for a workplace adjustment:
 - 16.1 Nature of the disability.
 - 16.2 Proposed adjustment and/or request for a workplace assessment.
 - 16.3 How the requested adjustment would support the staff member.
17. Dependent on the nature of the request, evidence from a medical practitioner may be used to demonstrate to the approver that the request is reasonable.
18. If further information is required a workplace assessment may be conducted.

E. Assessment

19. Line managers/Supervisors will support the removal of barriers in the workplace for staff with disability. The supervisor will promptly consider as soon as practicable a request for a workplace adjustment to enable staff members with disability to work productively. When responding to a request for an adjustment, a supervisor may seek information relating to the reasonableness of the required adjustment, such as:
 - 19.1 the benefit of the adjustment to the staff member;
 - 19.2 any adverse impact for affected staff members;
 - 19.3 the cost of the adjustment, or other relevant operational implications; and
 - 19.4 the availability of alternate sources of funding.
20. The line manager will consider advice from People Talent and Culture in responding to a request for a workplace adjustment.
21. The line manager/supervisor has a responsibility to consider the individual circumstances of the staff member making the request, taking account the team/work environment context of their position.

F. Implementing a Workplace Adjustment

22. Once the Workplace Adjustment Request has been reviewed and approved by the line manager/supervisor, the line manager/supervisor will ensure that agreed adjustments are implemented in accordance with the approved Workplace Adjustment Request.

23. Consideration will be given as to whether there is a requirement to advise colleagues of the staff member of the adjustments to be implemented. This will be mutually agreed by staff member and supervisor before any communications progress.
24. Training requirements associated with the implementation of workplace adjustments will be considered and actioned as required.
25. Costs for workplace adjustments will be met by the prospective/existing staff member's cost centre manager.
26. Staff member and supervisor to assess whether funding to implement workplace adjustments may be available through the Australian Government's Employment Assistance Fund (EAF).

G. Review of Workplace Adjustments and Ongoing Support

27. The staff member and the supervisor will review the implementation of the workplace adjustment to ensure that the adjustment made is appropriate and effective as intended.
28. The frequency of review will depend on the nature of the adjustment, the reason for the adjustment i.e. permanent versus temporary disability, and the requirements of the position and the relevance of the work environment and context.
29. The staff member will discuss the requirement for any further workplace adjustment and/or any relevant medical information with their line manager/supervisor or a People, Talent and Culture contact in a timely manner to enable the University to respond appropriately.
30. The University's Employee Assistance Program (EAP) is a confidential, professional counselling service available to all staff. This service offers confidential, support for work-related and non-work-related matters.

H. Decision Review

31. Where a line manager/supervisor declines a request for a workplace adjustment, the staff member can ask, via email, to have the matter re-considered by the Executive Director: People, Talent, and Culture.
32. Staff are able to notify a grievance under clause 57 of the University of South Australia Enterprise Agreement 2023 in the event they consider any outcome of a review of a decision is unfair or unreasonable.
