

Go to the academic promotion website and click on information sessions

Find the session you are interested in and click on the 'register here' button.

It will take you to the registration system.

In 'basic workshop search' (on the left) type in 'academic promotion' in the course name box (yellow highlighted) then hit 'search' (circled in red).

On the right under 'more courses' (highlighted in green) will appear the courses that are available under academic promotion or the women's development program – click on the + to expand (red arrow), locate the session you are interested in and submit new training request (green arrow).

The screenshot displays the 'Basic Workshop Search' interface. On the left, the 'Search for Courses' form has the 'Course Name' field filled with 'academic promotion' (highlighted in yellow). Below the form, the 'Search' button is circled in red. On the right, the 'Recently Used Courses' section lists several courses. Below it, the 'More Courses' section is highlighted in green. A red arrow points to the '+' icon next to the 'Academic Promotion' section header. A green arrow points to the '+' icon next to the course 'Applying for Academic Promotion - Q&A (z730)', which also includes a date and time: '06 May 2020, via Zoom, 11:00:00 - 15:00:00 (01)'. A blue information icon and a blue plus icon are also visible next to this course entry.
