The screenshot displays the myRD website interface. At the top, there is a blue navigation bar with the University of South Australia logo and the text "University of South Australia". To the right of the logo are four menu items: "STUDY", "RESEARCH", "CONNECT", and "ABOUT UNISA". Further right, there is a "Login" link with a dropdown arrow and a search icon. Below the navigation bar, a breadcrumb trail reads "Intranet > Staff > Unisa Research Office".

On the left side, there is a sidebar menu titled "Unisa Research Office" with the following items: "Finding Opportunities", "Securing Funding", "Establishing Your Project", "Managing Your Project", "Maximising Project Outputs", "Finalising Your Project", "Research Integrity and Ethics", "Online Tools", "RD FAQ", "Index", and "Research@Unisa". Each item has a right-pointing arrow.

The main content area features a heading "Make the most of myRD to support your researcher development". Below this heading, there is a paragraph explaining that myRD supports the development of research skills that enable you to achieve your research and career goals. It mentions that similar to EDGE^x for HDR candidates, myRD offers a convenient, easy-to-use place to book, manage, record, and reflect on your development activities.

Another paragraph states that with a wide range of activities available from the Library, Unisa Researcher Development, Academic Units, and expert external providers, myRD includes activities across all disciplines, career stages, and topics. It also mentions that you can add activities you undertake outside of the university, including conferences, workshops, and courses through the "Record your own activity" option.

A third paragraph notes that finally, myRD provides an exportable record of your research skills development which you could use for:

- > Development and career planning
- > Your CV
- > Your track record for grant applications

Below this list, there is a link "Login to myRD here" with an orange arrow pointing to it from the right. To the right of the "Login to myRD here" link, there is a blue button with the text "EDGE^x".

At the bottom of the page, there is a blue banner with the text "EDGE^x" and "myRD" in white.
