About Münster

Germany is a Western European country with a terrain of vast forests, rivers and mountain ranges, and 2 millennia of history. Münster is considered a 'young city' largely due to its 50,000 students but it has lots of historic charm and is known as the most liveable city in Germany.

Situated in the North West of Germany, Münster is often referred to as the bicycle capital and the lively student community is reflected in the large number of cafes, restaurants, clubs and pubs.
