DEFINITIONS:

Subject Area and Catalogue Number

A 4-letter subject area code plus a 4-digit catalogue number make up the course code, e.g. BIOL 1033. You can search for courses by using this code.

Class Number

A class number is a unique number used to identify individual classes held during a specified study period. You can use class numbers to enrol, starting with the class number of the enrolment class.

Enrolment Class

An Enrolment Class is the first class you enrol into for a course. This can be a lecture (LEC), tutorial (TUT), workshop (WSH), practical (PRA) or external (EXT). There may be multiple enrolment classes to choose between. All other classes will be related to the enrolment class and will display once you select your enrolment class.

Related Classes

Related classes are other components (i.e. a tutorial or practical) that make up the course. In some cases, you may be automatically enrolled into a related class that is associated with the enrolment class you selected.

Auto Enrol Class

In some courses, once you select the Enrolment Class, you are automatically enrolled (Auto-Enrol) in a second (related) class (e.g. by choosing a tutorial you are automatically enrolled into the lecture). You may still be required to select another related class to complete your enrolment.

NOTES:

1. The table above shows the full list of courses to be taken by a student undertaking a full-time load solely in this year of the program.
2. Students enrol in all courses for both study periods (Study Periods 2 & 5) at the beginning of the year.

3. Students in this program are required to secure their own supervised training position for the duration of their study. Students that have not secured a placement are unable to progress in the program after the first four courses.
4. Students must maintain a clinical experience logbook which documents supervised ultrasound experience (verified by an ASAR accredited sonographer) over the duration of the program.
5. For the final/eighth/capstone course all students must attend a compulsory OSCE examination on campus in Adelaide.
6. The program is offered on a part-time basis over a minimum of 2 years, and only by external delivery.
7. Students who are unable to secure a training position after completing level 1 courses in the program will be offered exit with a Graduate Certificate in Medical Sonography Principles and Theory. The Graduate Certificate exit award will NOT provide the student with ASAR accreditation.
